WARM WELCOME EXTENDED IKE BY NEIGHBORS, MANY VISITORS

Gettysburg went "all out" Friday to say "Welcome" to General Dwight D. Eisenhower on his first visit to Gettysburg since buying his farm—and the general responded with particular warmth to folk who were introduced to him as "Adams County neighbors."

When Assemblyman H. Earl Pitzer was introduced along with many other officials on the front porch steps at the edge of the shady farm lawn, "Ike" responded:

"You're my representative? I'm reporting for duty."

J. Arthur Boyd, Littlestown, one of the alternate delegates to the GOP presidential convention at Chicago next month—and the only one from Adams County—identified himself as a delegate from "our county." The general smiled broadly and said: "Good, I'm glad to see you" and added a slap on the shoulder to his warm greeting.

Republican County Chairman John H. Baschore joined the general on the farm home steps, made the announcement about the tour of the farm about to be made by Eisenhower and stayed at the farm house through most of the afternoon as one of the "official hosts" for the occasion.

Neighbors Greet General
Recently-elected GOP State Committeeman C. W. Epley of Gettysburg greeted the general at the farm house as did Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National Bank.

A number of delegates and a contingent of more than a score of newspaper photographers went to "Dega"—the name given the Eisenhower farm by combining the first letters of the names, Dwight Eisenhower and George Allen, "Ike's" friend who helped select the farm—and were waiting when the police-escorted general's car arrived after the brief ceremonies in Lincoln Square. The group there had heard the Eisenhower talk by radio.

In the group at the farm were Earl Brandon, nearest neighbor of the Nevins whose farm building stand only a few hundred yards south of the Eisenhower farm buildings; and Allen Redding, wearing a "guest" badge, from whom "Ike" bought the farm in November, 1950.

Waves And Smiles
As the car bearing the World War II commander drew up to the house "Ike" stood up and waved at the request of photographers and continued to oblige them for several minutes. At their insistence that he smile and wave, he said: "There's

Yanks Repulse Red Battalion Thrust Along Western Front

SEOUL, Korea, (AP)—Two American regiments early today repulsed a Chinese battalion trying to cut off their newly-won positions along a mass of hills on the Western Korean Front.

In three hours of some of the most savage fighting since November, the 45th Division Oklahoma troops regained all of the T-shaped group of ridges west of Chorwon.

The 750 Chinese attacked before midnight with tanks or self-propelled guns and an artillery-mortar barrage. By 2:25 a.m., the 179th and 180th Regiments, aided by fighter-bombers and tanks, drove the Reds out, U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters said.

Had Observation Posts
MUNSAN, Korea, (AP)—A United Nations spokesman disclosed today the Communists have maintained infantry observation posts within the Panmunjom truce area during the deadlocked armistice talks.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls said the Allies had known of the three positions "for quite some time." He said he did not know if they are still in the area.

Again today the armistice delegations made no progress on the truce-blocking issue of prisoner exchange. Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior U. N. negotiator, hinted after a 27-minute session he may force another recess.

During a separate, hour-long meeting, Allied and Communist liaison officers agreed on a survey to determine exact boundaries of the 1,000-yard conference area.

FINE DECLARES IKE CAPTURED SOME DELEGATES

Governor John S. Fine said here Friday afternoon he believed the Eisenhower meeting with the Pennsylvania delegates to the Republican National Convention won "a few delegates to Eisenhower," but said he personally was "not exposed to conversion as yet."

At the same time he added that he and Eisenhower were closer to agreement than they had been on the question of foreign policy, which he said was the difference between him and Eisenhower and him and Taft.

Fine made the statements at a press conference held in the Hotel Gettysburg dining room with about 100 newspapermen and radio representatives from throughout the nation. They hurled questions at the Pennsylvania governor as he sat in the middle of the room. He smiled occasionally and sometimes seemed angered by the interrogations.

Cites Heavy Vote

The governor indicated that he holds a position somewhere midpoint between Eisenhower and Taft in regards to foreign policy and implied that as far as domestic policy was concerned he felt he could follow the lead of either Republican candidate. Differences between the governor and Eisenhower on foreign policy, said, adding that "those differences are 'paramount.'" Governor Eisenhower said he had become less in the thinking between himself and General Eisenhower.

Pennsylvania's vote for Eisenhower, 890,000 in his favor, is one consideration that will be taken by the Pennsylvania delegates at Chicago, Governor Fine said. "At the same time we must take into consideration the fact that 179,000 voted for Taft. This is extremely important because all were written-in votes. You can't overlook that. I feel that anyone who went to all the trouble to write in a vote for Taft where there are voting machines is a Taft enthusiast and that those who went to the trouble to write in Taft on ballots where

CONSIDER NEW MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES HERE

The possibility of establishing a special "Gettysburg National Cemetery Ritual" for the annual Memorial Day exercises here instead of having all three—VFW, American Legion and GAR rituals during the annual exercises—was discussed by the Memorial Day committee at a meeting held Friday evening at the GAR Post rooms on E. Middle St.

Because of time limitations only a portion of the Memorial Day ritual of each organization is given at the exercises and, according to the discussion Friday night, it was felt that it might be more appropriate to have each organization present its full ritual at a special morning exercise, such as the VFW held this year, and then have a special ritual service written for the afternoon Memorial Day event. The ritual would be presented by a representative from each of the sponsoring organizations, the SUV, USWV, American Legion and VFW.

Action Is Deferred
No action was taken on the matter. Members of the committee said

Camera Records Three Events During Ike's Reception

Here And There News Collected At Random

We recently interested ourselves in the candidacy of John R. Reitemeyer, president and publisher of The Hartford (Conn.) Courant, for director of The Associated Press. In his letter of acknowledgment Mr. Reitemeyer wrote:

"I have a very warm spot in my heart for Gettysburg. In World War I, I was in the tank corps and our first station was in Gettysburg. I shall always remember how kind the people of the town were to us at that time. I remember, particularly, how friendly and helpful everyone was at the Servicemen's Center which was conducted by the Episcopal Church, where I finally wound up assisting the rector at the services. Some day I am coming back to renew my acquaintance with the battlefield, only this time I am afraid I shall have to cover the various points of interest by car, rather than afoot—loaded with heavy pack and rifle, as I did then."

Although many drivers are physically unfit to drive automobiles, their licenses are renewed year after year. "If every application for a driving license (Please Turn to Page 7)

ANNUAL PARADE, FLAG DAY RITES HERE ON FRIDAY

Annual Flag Day exercises were held here Friday evening with one of the largest parades since establishment of the program and with the traditional flag history service from the balcony of the Hotel Gettysburg.

The services were interrupted while the Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, was delivering the address of the evening, to permit the passage of General Dwight D. Eisenhower and his party through the Lincoln Square enroute to Harrisburg where he is enroute for a major speech at Detroit.

Six cars comprised the Eisenhower party, headed by State Police. The crowd, somewhat startled by the appearance of the caravan, quickly discovered the occupant of the second car and set up a cheer for Eisenhower. The former general snapped a salute to the massed flags as he passed and waved to the cheering crowd.

Guardsmen Take Part
Approximately 1,500 gathered in Lincoln Square for the Flag Day event. Borough police, appraised in advance that Eisenhower was leaving the farm and that state police planned to take him through the center of the town, kept a lane open between the center plot and the parade members gathered before the hotel.

The program opened with a parade led by borough police, followed by the Blue and Gray band and the local Howitzer company of the National Guard. Forty-two of the guardsmen, led by Lt. Donald Doremus, marched while the remainder rode in a 2½-ton cargo and personnel carrier, four half tracks and the Howitzer bearing tank. The 2½-ton truck, newest piece of equipment of the company, arrived this week. The truck, with hydraulic drive, 16 forward speeds and two in reserve is designed for use with a snorkel which will permit the truck motor to drive underwater if needed when fording a stream.

Uniformed Elks March
Following the National Guard unit were the Veterans of Foreign Wars Color Guard, the United Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Union Veterans Color Guard, the Gettysburg Fire Company marching unit, including a banner, color guard, the fire chiefs, Donald Jacobs, Donald McSherry and Donald Staub, bearing the traditional silver hose nozzles filled with flowers and followed by other members of the company in dark blue uniforms. Thirty-three firemen were in the line of march.

The banner unit of the Elks came next, two men carrying a banner and wearing the "uniform" of the Elks state champion marching unit, gray suits, straw hats with purple band, purple bow ties, white and tan shoes and with a white handkerchief placed in the breast pocket of each coat.

The Gettysburg High School band and majorettes preceded the American Legion Color Guard and after that came 79 members of the Elks Marching unit. Forty-nine Girl Scouts and Brownies of the various troops and the Boy Scouts completed the procession.

Judge Presides

Judge W. C. Sheely, master of ceremonies for the balcony event, told the group, "The flags go back far into our history, and it is important to know that the history of our flag and the church in America go hand in hand. The first thing the pioneers established was the church. Then came the flag and today, wherever our flag flies, there too is the church."

Dr. Baughman described the making of the first American flag by Betsy Ross and "the multitude of stories that have grown around that first flag." The flag, he said, "is not just a bit of bunting, not just an arrangement of colors, but a symbol of the survival and persistence of the highest ideals."

"That spirit of the flag was best exemplified by Lincoln's Speech here—'government of the people, for the people and by the people.'"

"Our nation," he said "is like one of those mighty fortresses that were built in Europe."

Time For Dedication
"Those fortresses could not be defeated by attack from without. They fell, if they fell at all, from some failing within the walls, either

FINE DECLARES

there are not voting machines at least very much interested.
Friendly To MacArthur
"I don't want to overlook those who went to all the trouble of writing in Taft's name."
The governor said that he "would be against General MacArthur with great reluctance," but said that MacArthur was not influencing the Pennsylvania vote.
As far as Pennsylvania delegates are concerned, the governor said he could not tell how many were for Eisenhower, how many are for Taft and how many are in favor of following the governor in his position of not making up his mind until the convention in Chicago, or "close thereto."
In the governor's opinion, he said, MacArthur will make a "thrilling" speech in the keynote address in Chicago. The governor said he plans to meet again with MacArthur. The governor and Pennsylvania's delegates will meet with Taft in Pittsburgh and Hershey June 24. "I don't know that I have any delegates pledged to me. In this game I feel that the best you can do is to keep working and hope for the best," Fine said.

Pleased With Reception

The governor added that he felt the reception by General Eisenhower at the farm was "very splendid and the general handled himself very well." He said he was "sure that the delegates enjoyed the visit considerably and received the information they had hoped to obtain to help them decide on a candidate at Chicago."

The reception, the governor added, "did not do him (Eisenhower) any harm."
On the number of "delegates converted" Fine said that the number three had been converted. In recollection he said that two or three to a question whether the number would be five, he held that too high.

He said Taft was a non-internationalist, as compared to Eisenhower as an internationalist. He said he "could not see anyone else as a serious candidate at Chicago." He declared he had not authorized anyone to meet with Governor McKeldin of Maryland concerning a Maryland-Pennsylvania delegate bloc at Chicago. He said that Stephen P. Stahinecker, who is said to have met with McKeldin on the matter, has denied the accusation. He added he did not plan to call Governor McKeldin.

Fine said there were 58 delegates and 60 alternates at the Eisenhower reception at the farm.
He added that if he "thought a candidate would not win the general election if nominated I will stop right there, and put my decision on a party basis. Personally I think the Taft outlook is alright at the present time."

He said if a compromise candidate were to be selected he would "be for the best interests of the party."
Reporters from all over the country took part in the conference. On one occasion other reporters challenged a questioner concerning his qualifications and whether he actually did not represent Stassen or some other candidate rather than a newspaper.

The press conference was one of the large-scale type usually held in cities.

that the idea should be discussed among the four sponsoring organizations before final action is taken.
How to keep the crowd from overrunning the school children when they are halted to review the parade on Baltimore St. was also discussed. Various members of the committee said they had heard favorable comment on the idea of permitting the children to see the parade by halting the column of children and permitting the rest of the parade to pass the youngsters. However, this year the crowd overran the youngsters and held them back for at least five minutes before police could clear a way for them to enter the cemetery.
Dr. Joseph H. Riley, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting. No decision was reached as to whom should be invited to speak next year.

WARM WELCOME

a pretty girl taking pictures, I'll wave to her." The young lady was an alternate delegate from Lancaster but wouldn't reveal her name.
After greeting General and Mrs. Nevin, who had been waiting at the backyard gate in the hedge that edges the shady lawn, General "Ike" introduced his companions, U. S. Senator James H. Duff, Governor John S. Fine and State GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor to the Nevins and they all went into the house for a few minutes. It was "Ike's" first look at the interior of his farm home that duties abroad kept him from visiting.
The picture taking on the front porch steps began where the general smilingly and patiently complied with most of the clamor of demands from the photographers and newsreel men.

Greets Each Visitor
As the members of the Pennsylvania delegation filed by to shake hands with the general they came first to Chairman Taylor who passed names of most of them along to Governor Fine, who proved that he knew many of them personally as he introduced them to "Ike."

The general gave each his famous smile, exchanged a few remarks that often included: "Thank you for coming." "Nice to have you." The line was halted briefly while "Ike" turned to greet U. S. Senator Edward Martin who had just come out to the porch from the house and then there was another flurry of picture making.
Many of the cameramen would stop the delegate line when persons of special interest to them or when figures such as National Committee-man G. Mason Owlett and Samuel S. Lewis, member of Governor Fine's cabinet, came along.

When Governor Fine presented his sons, Don and Jack, to the general the cameramen went to work again with the general standing with an arm around each boy and then shaking hands with the youngsters. "Ike" stopped the picture making with: "I think it's time for a sandwich, don't you?" and made the photographers promise to send the Fine boys a picture. Fred Waring, band leader of radio and TV fame, greeted the boys and was photographed with "Ike" and the two lads.

Ike Tours Farm
A few minutes after Chairman Basehore announced plans for the farm tour, "Ike" and General Nevins were swinging briskly down a back lane to the cow pasture with a throng of cameramen, reporters and radiomen about them.

"Ike" was photographed with his hand on a fencepost, chatting with General Nevins about the herds and the crops and several of the photographers cornered a Guernsey heifer long enough for several in the crowd to get a few shots before the animal shied out of the picture.
Then with a radioman trotting alongside holding a microphone in front of the two generals to record their conversation about the progress of farming operations on the Eisenhower acres, the pair headed for the big red barn and made a quick inspection of the dairy stables while cameramen clamored for a shot of "Ike" climbing a fence.

After several smiling refusals, Eisenhower climbed up on the board fence surrounding the barnyard, hung on when a board snapped under his weight and the sat astride the top of the fence and grinned while shutters snapped.

Nevins Gives Report
Enroute to the barn from the pasture, George Miller Jr., Carlisle St., fell in step beside the general to identify himself as a neighbor and to explain that he and his parents had a turkey farm nearby.

Clyde D. Berger, Merion, Pa., formerly of Gettysburg, stopped "Ike" to tell him he has a picture of "Ike's" company at Camp Colt. "Ike" recalled the picture and said he hadn't "seen that photograph in nearly 40 years."

While "Ike" straddled the top rail on the barnyard fence, one newsman quipped: "Hey Ike, that's a political shot. You're on the fence." The remark was ignored, if it was heard by the general, and he discussed the dairy herd with Nevins and after a report on the number of cows milking now the number of "heifers coming on," he observed: "We'll have quite a herd."

Buffet lunches were served from a stand between the house and barn and white-covered tables were set out in the shade of big trees on the Eisenhower lawn for the delegates and guests. There was a tent north of the barn for newsmen to eat in and work.

Two Gettysburg fire trucks stood by. Early in the morning they cut the dust about the farm buildings by "wetting down" the drives near the house and barn.

MARRIAGE LICENSE
A marriage license was issued at the court house today to John L. Sweeney, 51 Chambersburg St., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Sweeney, Carlisle R. 6, and Elizabeth Ann Lippy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lippy Jr., 161 Seminary Ave.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

KEEP GOING ON!

I am sure that even the strongest and most successful have times when they think they have accomplished little, and they themselves need encouragement to keep going. If that is true then we who form the great army of human beings, battling to get usefully ahead, surely should not get too discouraged at any time.

It's when we get lowest in spirit that we should never think of letting up. Keep going on, for courage cumulates as we put that extra effort into whatever we may be doing. The scientist never quite knows how near he is to the solution of any problem. He knows that he must just keep going on. To get too discouraged and quit would mean failure.

I have always been glad that I finished my college course. When half through I got discouraged and was about to quit when I went to a prominent man for advice. He said: "Don't even think of quitting. Battle it out. There are too many men now with ragged edges to their character. Be a finisher!" That advice has been a mighty stimulant ever since.

In every walk of life we have examples of those who rose from humble circumstances to great power and usefulness, largely because they kept going on! It is the story of the world. Each day of our lives new lights appear to give us direction. Set-backs should only be remembered as milestones. How little we know as to the potentiality of our God-given talents and ability. How everything enlarges as we keep going on.

Never should we hold back any encouragement that we can give to another. It may result in the turning point in that one's life. This has often proved to be the case. We encourage ourselves when we encourage some one else. There are no short-cuts to high achievement. Our best personal satisfaction and our most appreciative rewards result from doing our best and then to keep going on!

FLAG DAY

Within its starry field of blue,
Its stripes of red and white,
Wherever it appears in view,
The dreams of men unite.
Our flag, since first it was unfurled,
Has held the hope of all the world.

Bright banner of the happy home
And childhood's right to play;
Of steeple and cathedral dome
And every prayer we say.
Old Glory! Since its hour of birth,
God's symbol for a troubled earth.

Banner, unstained by tyrant might
Or bloodshed of the weak,
Flag of men's liberty to write
And as they think to speak!

Flag of the free; flag of the brave!
Hope of the world, long may it wave.

REDS RELEASE KIDNAP VICTIM; HOLD 2 OTHERS

BERLIN (AP) — The Russians Friday freed one German they had kidnapped from West Berlin, but they defied a British protest by continuing to hold two West Berlin newspaper men seized at the same time.

A young West Berlin woman also was arrested by Communist police last night and was still in their custody today. She was the first victim of a new Communist decree which extended to Berlin's boundaries the same severe measures which have sealed the east-west German frontier.

This decree, issued last night, was the latest move in the Communist campaign to squeeze surrounded West Berlin. The Allies' last strong-hold behind the Iron Curtain. It was timed neatly to offset, in the worried minds of West Berliners, two measures taken by the West yesterday to boost Berlin's morale.

Plan Counter Measures
Only a few hours before the decree, the Allied High Commission announced its determination to counter any new attacks by Russia on Berlin, and joined with West Germany in providing economic aid for this city's struggling industries.

Hopes raised by these actions were promptly dashed by the new Red decree. Issued by Moscow's trusted German agent, Deputy East German Prime Minister Walter Ulbricht, it directed police to "extend generally" the stern measures already in force on the zonal frontier to "hinder the entrance of diversionists, spies and terrorists."

This makes the street boundaries of West Berlin an armed frontier. Any one who crosses is liable to at least two years in prison—perhaps death if they are ruled major violators "of the peace."

Barriers and trenches are set up along the borders, manned by gunners instructed to shoot on sight.

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD—Mrs. Paul Miller, with her sister, Mrs. Earl Witter, near here, are spending a week on a motor trip to Miami, Fla., where they will visit. With them are Mrs. Miller's son, J. Glen Miller, and Ray W. Wagner, East Berlin.

Fred Shetter, who has been living here for several months since opening a recreation center east of town, entertained during the week Mrs. Frank Webb, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Charles Kohl and daughters, Christine and Rita, Baltimore, who had been visiting at the home of Mr. Shetter's family in East Berlin.

The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor of the local Catholic church, has announced that for the remainder of the summer months the second mass as well as the first, each Sunday, will be a low mass. The times for the Sunday masses are 7:30 and 10 a.m.

The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett has returned to his duties as pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church after spending several days on retreat during the early part of the week.

The Always Faithful Class of the First Lutheran Church school is sponsoring a strawberry festival today at the church property.

A small section of the Lincoln Highway just east of town at Cross Keys has been undergoing concrete repairs this week. One-way traffic for a short space has been in order.

York Springs

YORK SPRINGS — Guillermo Barriga entertained recently, with his wife and young daughters, when their guest was Fernando Gaitan, first secretary of the Colombian Embassy at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Josie Miller was leader of a prayer meeting at the local Church of God on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Maude Wierman Kennedy has been reported ill at her home.

Members of the high school class of the local school who received diplomas May 29 spent a few days in New York last week on a class trip. The trip was financed by the fund which the class raised by publication.

Says Dixiecrats Are Not Party Members

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., (AP)—State Rep. Hiram G. Andrews D-Cambria says the Dixiecrats do not belong in the Democratic Party.

Andrews, a delegate to the Democratic National Convention, told the Johnstown Democrat in an interview Thursday night:

"If the Dixiecrats are in control of the convention, or force alleged compromises which stultify the traditional position of the party, I want no part of it and I'll walk out." He added:

"The Dixiecrats line up with renegade Democrats in the north like Sen. Pat McCarran D-Nev. and with partisan-minded Republicans. They play between the lines spending their time serving the special interests and undermining northern economy."

Pittsburgh Has Own Oxygen Bank

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There are many blood banks in the Pittsburgh district but now there's also an oxygen bank.

A group of businessmen in the Mt. Oliver district of Pittsburgh established the oxygen bank to help cope with emergencies.

Tanks of oxygen and equipment to administer it are stored in the Mt. Oliver borough building. The service is available, free of charge, to any physician in the area.

By making a phone call a physician can have the oxygen rushed to the bedside of heart attack victims or others critically ill. The oxygen bank is maintained by donations of district residents.

Doctor Shortage Will Soon Ease

JERUSALEM (AP) — The shortage of physicians in Israel may be eased somewhat when the first 62 students fully trained at the medical school of the Hebrew University-Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem receive their doctors degrees this month.

Shortly afterwards the cornerstone will be laid in the hills west of Jerusalem for a new 20 million dollar University-Hadassah Medical Center to supplement the present hospital buildings and laboratories.

MORE DISPUTES IN PHILIPPINES SMOULDERING

MANILA (AP) — Jose P. Laurel, probably the most controversial political figure in the Philippines, is being urged by friends to campaign for the presidency again in 1953.

He made an unsuccessful bid against President Elpidio Quirino in 1949, as head of the opposition Nacionalista Party, but asserted he was beaten by fraudulent votes.

Last fall, Laurel was elected to the Senate by the largest majority ever given a candidate for any office in the island republic. On his first birthday recently he said his future plans depend on his party.

Powerful Support
Among those urging Laurel to try again for president is Senate President Quintin Paredes of the dominant Liberal Party. Paredes was elected head of the Senate when a Nacionalista senator, Felisberto Verano, crossed party lines to break a 12-12 deadlock which had prevented organization of the senate for 35 days.

A storm of controversy swirled around Laurel since the U. S. liberated the islands from the Japanese in 1945.

Laurel had remained behind—as chief justice of the supreme court—when the late commonwealth president Manuel Quezon and Vice President Sergio Osmeña fled from Corregidor with General MacArthur in 1942.

Laurel said Quezon had asked him to stay "and do what you can for the Filipino people." During the occupation, the invaders set up a puppet government and placed Laurel at its head.

In the meantime Quezon died in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Shetter motored to Baltimore on Wednesday to visit at the Kohl home before Mrs. Webb's return to Florida.

GARCIA TURNS IN 9TH WIN; YANKS LOSE LOOP LEAD

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Husky Mike Garcia of the Cleveland Indians, gunning for his second straight 20-victory harvest, is way ahead of his time table.

Garcia recorded his ninth and most impressive victory of the season last night, beating the world champion New York Yankees, 7-1 in the only American League game.

Last year at this stage the Californian of Mexican extraction possessed a mediocre 5-4 record card.

The "Bear," as he's called by his teammates, stifled the Yankees on four hits, walked only two, struck out ten, batted in two runs and scored two in topping the Yank's best, Allie Reynolds.

The Red Sox on Top

The Bombers slipped to second with the Boston Red Sox taking over the lead by .0004 of a percentage point. The Indians are a close third.

The loss snapped a six-game New York winning streak.

Bob Rush, another big right-hander, came up with a brilliant 5-0 three-hit victory for the Chicago Cubs over the Boston Braves in the National League's only game.

Cubs Push Giants

Rush walked four and fanned 11 in posting his ninth triumph and fourth shutout. The Cubs tucked the game away in the first inning, pouncing on Vern Bickford for four runs on three singles, a pair of walks and a fly ball.

Bob Addis, a former Brave, led Chicago's nine hit attack with four singles.

The victory enabled the Cubs, who have won 16 out of their last 20 starts, to move to within seven percentage points of the second place New York Giants.

The U. S. won the first three matches in the best of seven series yesterday. The necessary additional victory is almost certain to come in the first match today when Miss Hart, who lives in Coral Gables, Fla., meets Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith.

NEW YORK (AP)—Winner George Araujo and split-decision loser Arthur King both are screaming today for a lightweight title shot with the winner of the Laura Salas-Jimmy Carter rematch.

Penn State, Missouri Remain Undefeated

OMAHA (AP)—Penn State and Missouri were the only undefeated teams today as the NCAA Baseball Tournament entered the second round.

The leaders, each with a 2-0 mark, clash tonight.

Texas and Holy Cross were matched and Duke and Western Michigan also meet. Each of the trailing quartet has a 1-1 record and two are due for departure from the double elimination tournament.

Penn State turned in the top surprise yesterday, whipping Duke, the tournament favorite 24 hours ago, 12-7, by out-slugging the Blue Devils at their own game. Penn State slammed three Duke hurlers for 12 hits.

The "Bear," as he's called by his teammates, stifled the Yankees on four hits, walked only two, struck out ten, batted in two runs and scored two in topping the Yank's best, Allie Reynolds.

George Bielemeier of the Elmira Pioneers is one reason the Reading Indians are losing ground to the pace-setting Albany Senators in the Eastern League.

In other games, the Hartford Chiefs trounced the Binghamton Triplets, 6-2, and the Scranton Miners beat the Williamsport Tigers, 8-4.

Interstate

By The Associated Press

Wilmington was perched in first place in the Interstate League today as the Hagerstown Braves skidded all the way from the top spot to third place.

Wilmington nosed out the Harrisburg Senators, 7-6, enabling the Rocks to climb into the top spot.

The York Red Roses won their third straight at the expense of the Allentown Cardinals 2-0.

Hagerstown staged a rally in the eighth inning but it wasn't enough to overcome a Lancaster lead and the Braves were defeated 4-2.

The Salisbury Reds chalked up their fourth win in a row by downing the Sunbury Giants, 6-4.

HOGAN SHOOTS HIS SECOND 69

DALLAS (AP)—The Hawk had his claws in another National Open Golf Championship today.

The Hawk—given the name by Jimmy Demaret because "once he gets his claws in you, he never lets up"—is wiry, little Ben Hogan.

Hogan, relentlessly demonstrating his mastery of the funnel-like fairways on the 6,782-yard Northwood course, shot his second straight 69 yesterday to equal the record of 138 for the first 36 holes of the Open.

As the field was reduced to the low 50 and ties—those who shot 151 or better for 36 holes—there weren't many left who had a chance to perform a similar feat.

George Fazio of Clementon, N. J., another little guy and something of a miracle worker with his putter, was at even par 140 after matching Hogan's second-round 69.

Johnny Bulla, the lanky, black-browed airplane pilot from Pittsburgh, had 141. Bulla shot the tournament's second 68 yesterday only to find himself in third place.

SOVIETS SEND PANYUSHKIN TO CHINESE POST

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press announced to the public Friday the shift of Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin from Washington to China, and observers here attached great importance to the move.

The appointment of Panyushkin means the USSR is going to have one of its ablest diplomats—and one who possesses vast experience in dealing with the Chinese—in the post at Peking.

Panyushkin, 47, is now on his way home from Washington. In China he replaces Gen. Nikolai Vasilievich Roschin, who, the press said, is being relieved of the duties which have kept him in China since 1948, first as an envoy to the Nationalist regime of Chiang Kai-shek and then to the Communist regime.

Knows China Well

Panyushkin has a broad knowledge of China. He was temporary representative to Chungking back in 1938 when the USSR and Nationalist China were negotiating a commercial treaty. He was later appointed ambassador to Nationalist China and remained there until 1944, when falling health forced him to give up the duties.

Panyushkin returned to the Foreign Affairs Ministry and worked there until 1947 when he was appointed ambassador to Washington. He attended the Foreign Ministers Conference in London in 1947, and also was the Soviet representative on the Allied Far Eastern Commission.

Panyushkin holds the Order of the Red Banner and the Order of Lenin.

The Foreign Affairs Ministry has perhaps no diplomat to whom it would assign more responsibility than it would to Panyushkin. His job in China is regarded by foreign diplomats here to be of the greatest importance.

Crewmen Of Ditched Superfort Missing

HONOLULU (AP)—Ten crewmen of a ditched B29 superfortress Friday were reported missing in shark-infested waters 175 miles west of Kwajalein.

The pilot of the 11-man crew, an Air Force captain, was rescued by a navy patrol craft four hours after the plane went down. He had a broken leg. His name was withheld.

The rescued man said the B29 broke up quickly when it hit the water. He said he believed the others aboard were lost. One sank beneath a wave before he could reach him, the pilot said.

RESISTANCE OF KOJE ISLAND POWS BROKEN

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP)—Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner indicated Friday the resistance of Kojé Island's 80,000 once-defiant Red war prisoners has been broken.

"The thing here actually is over," the tough prison camp commander told reporters after three more prisoner compounds bowed meekly to United Nations authority.

Six of Kojé's 17 stockades of stubborn, Red-led prisoners have been emptied during Boatner's operation. Inmates of a seventh today signified willingness to obey orders.

27,500 Dispersed
About 27,500 prisoners have been dispersed into smaller stockades of 500 each, or transferred to new pens to await completion of smaller enclosures. The 17 original compounds held up to 6,000 or more inmates each.

Two compounds containing some of the most fanatical prisoners yielded to transfer Friday. A third sent Boatner word its prisoners would move when he ordered.

Intelligence officers found large quantities of knives, 200 to 300 home made spears and home made gas masks in emptied compound 66. Several tents had world maps—with Communist countries in red and the rest of the world in white.

One tent had an elaborate arrangement of wires. Intelligence officers assumed the POWs had a radio there.

3 Gunmen Stage $12,000 Robbery

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three gunmen, two of them masked, robbed a brewery union's headquarters Friday of $12,000 after forcing a secretary to open a safe.

The gunman accosted George Muehlbauer, 75, as he opened the office of the CIO Brewery Workers, headquarters for Locals 22, 67 and 144.

One of the bandits told Muehlbauer: "Open that safe if you don't want to get hurt."

They taped his mouth shut and left him lying on the floor. Muehlbauer, secretary of Local 22, was freed a short time later by another employee.

The money, officials said, was to be paid out in strike benefits.

Orrtanna

ORRTANNA—Pfc. Henry Fissel is spending a two-week furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fissel, and other relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Williams, Thurmont, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wetzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller and son, York, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fissel.

Mrs. Samuel Weaver, the Misses Lillian and Alice Weaver and Paul Weaver, all of Hagerstown, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pepple.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Donaldson have gone to reside with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pryor, Chambersburg, instead of Waynesboro as was recently reported.

Mrs. Ruth Shindielecker has received word that her son, Sfc. Clyde W. Shindielecker, has arrived safely in Perquimex, France, where he expects to spend three years. Sfc. Shindielecker went into the Army March 8, 1943, in World War II. He spent 26 months overseas including Ireland, France, Belgium and Germany.

Mrs. Ruth Shindielecker had as her guests for several days Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pryor and children, Robert, Walter, Marilyn, Larry, Garry and Norma Jean, Marion, O. Mr. Pryor is a cousin of Mrs. Shindielecker. During their stay Mr. and Mrs. Pryor and Mrs. Shindielecker visited their aunt, Mrs. Mary Woolridge, who has been ill at her home in Waynesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher visited Sunday with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gallagher, and family, Chambersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Baltzley, Stewartstown, were recent visitors with Mr. Baltzley's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wetzel, R. D., and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Baltzley, Gettysburg.

H. P. Lauer, who has been ill, is reported improved.

RED CHARGES FRANCE PLOTS AGAINST HIM

PARIS (AP)—Jacques Duclos, French Communist leader charged with plotting against the state, Friday accused the French Government of modelling its action on the Reichstag fire trial.

He protested during his three-and-a-half hour interrogation by an examining magistrate that the action taken against him and other Communist leaders was exactly like that taken against the German Communists after the Reichstag had been burned in Berlin in 1934.

He added: "The instigator of the repression which followed in Germany—Marshall Goering—had in the end to die with a rope around his neck." Actually Goering committed suicide by taking poison while awaiting execution by hanging.

Duclos complained to the magistrate that 30,000 francs ($850) was missing from the brief case which was taken from him at the time of his arrest during a Communist demonstration against the arrival of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway to take over Gen. Eisenhower's European Command on May 28. He said he would take proceedings for theft against those concerned.

He also announced his intention of suing two Paris newspapers—Ce Matin and Franc-Tireur—for saying that a marked plan of Paris which constituted "a general staff map" had been found in his briefcase.

The ailing Communist leader—he suffers from diabetes—was driven back to the Santé Prison in an ambulance which had brought him to the Palais de Justice.

8 Million Deaths Laid To Communists

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)—All Beg, a Kazak leader who fought Communism in Chinese Turkestan for 15 years, claims that since 1936 more than eight million Muslims have been killed by Communists in Chinese Sinkiang.

Since Communist occupation of Sinkiang large bands of Kazaks—anti-Communist residents of Sinkiang, have fought their way across Tibet and into Kashmir, where the Kashmiri government has given them refuge.

TOUCHY TUTO

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—Robert B. Farley Jr. is only 2 but already he has his doubts about these modern autos.

All Master Robert did recently was press a couple of gadgets and the family car jumped over a curb and smacked a fence.

The two gadgets were the ignition and the starter. The car was damaged a bit but Bobby wasn't.

LIBYA FIGHTS TYPHUS
TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—The Libyan health ministry is fighting a widespread typhus fever outbreak. More than 80 cases were reported in a four-week period in Cyrenaica in districts as far apart as Agedabia and Tobruk.

GRIL IS KILLED
A 10-year-old boy, Gril, was killed by an automobile Thursday while crossing route 15 near West Milton, Union County. Coroner Harry Beck said the girl suffered a fractured skull.

Many suspect that the reason some drivers tear through the traffic light on yellow is because that's the only color they really know.

New Kind Of Spare
Owners of new cars always should find out what brand of brake fluid has been used in the system. By carrying along an extra quart of this fluid there will be little risk of mixing fluids should the system need more fluid on a trip. If there is any question about the kind of fluid in the brakes many mechanics advocate bleeding the system and refilling with the known and approved brand. As with hypoid rear end lubricant the object of this extra effort in carkeeping is to avoid mixing types of fluids and oils.

Back To Fundamentals
As you will note if you study my newly published book on CAR CARE there is a definite trend back to some of the basic principles in car design and functioning as a means to better diagnosis. The editors felt that the book should explain the fundamentals on the theory that not only is this essential to those who are not familiar enough with what goes on under the hood but also because it helps remind those mechanically inclined to get back to the simple facts when problems arise. It seems to make a lot of sense. I think that we all have a tendency to make things too complicated.

I was reminded of this when a reader told me of his difficulty getting rid of a bad case of thumping in the front end of his car. Everyone thought of something complicated. Finally a smart mechanic came up with the answer. He just replaced one of the front coil springs which was so weak it bottomed when the car ran over a rough road.

Sparing Them Worry
One of the motor manufacturers has widened the dial of the heat temperature gauge so that the normal operating range is a quarter-inch less rather than a mere point. It is just a matter of psychology, of course, but it probably will keep a lot of drivers from worrying needlessly. Too many people assume that if the pointer goes above normal point the engine is starting to overheat.

If you know that the engine of your car will use 5.9 times as much oil at 55 miles an hour as at 30, provided it is driven over the same road under the same conditions, perhaps you have also guessed that if your road speed is high the oil will not last as long as if you regularly drive at a more moderate pace. An engine that uses a quart of oil every 1,000 miles at a speed of 30 miles an hour will use up the same amount of oil at 150 miles if driven 60 miles an hour.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"It's bound to be discouraging to the owner of a new car to have the engine skipping, but even though this may indicate that the engine is handicapped by a 'green' block the situation can usually be smoothed out. Block warpage usually is a combination of lack of sufficient 'seasoning' of the metal plus carelessness on the part of the owner when breaking in the engine. This warpage affects the seating of valves and brings on skipping which simply can't be corrected by attention to the ignition, carburetion and valving. The remedy is to have the valve seats refaced so that the valves can close normally.

First Checks On Fever
Next time the engine starts to overheat, and you have stopped to investigate, remember to feel the brake drums to see if by any chance the brakes are dragging. This can be caused by the brakes self-applying themselves as a result of clogging of the master cylinder's relief port. It is also a good idea to test the clutch for slippage. One tip-off is the fact that the motor runs too fast for the speed of the car but a more positive test is to engage the clutch with the brakes set firmly the car in low and the motor accelerated. If the clutch is all right the motor should stall immediately.

It hasn't come in for much comment as yet but grouping the controls to the left of the steering wheel looks like one of the better safety features of the year, thus keeping the control away from the busy fingers of children or other passengers. . . . Shields for outside rear-view mirrors are the latest, the idea being to provide better vision when driving in the rain.

with the sun hitting the mirror. . . . One of those all metal flexible hoses used by trailer travelers might be practical for car washing around the garage. . . . Hardest cars to identify by name from a picture showing automobiles parked at a sporting event in Sweden were the American products. . . . because they were all fifteen or more years old!

Still Getting A Shock
It has been going on for some time yet some motorists do not realize that the static shock they get when touching metal parts of the car is due to static electricity stored up on their bodies from sliding around on plastic seat covers. I am told that this condition does not develop if the pattern of the covers runs crosswise instead of from front to back. Anyhow, the use of a rubber static strap attached to the under side of the car, dangling to the ground, won't check static from this source. Several companies have put out special polishes which check the static.

One reason so many radiators have to be taken off and boiled out is because owners do not disconnect the hoses when cleaning the block. Dislodged rust, rubber and sediment then is forced into the radiator.

Shimmy that becomes worse as the car is driven over a rough road or on a hot day is a good tipoff that the fluid in the shock absorbers isn't the right grade or that there is too little fluid.

Most motorists these days leave the car heater hoses valve open summer and winter. The core of the heater makes for better motor cooling in hot weather.

Right On The Job
Still will to the front in bull sessions about cars is the way these bundles of mechanism continue to fool us. I am thinking especially of the report on difficulty one owner had getting the current regulator to hold down the charging rate. The owner of adjustment he found that the regulator showed a steady, healthy charge, with none of the dips back to zero to indicate that the battery had been fully charged. Finally it was pointed out to him that because he was using a truck size battery in his car the generator really had to keep humming all the time. In other words, the regulation system was right on the beam.

It is difficult to keep the larger batteries fully charged, especially with so much drain by way of many extra lights, the radio, heater and the job of cranking such high compression engines.

What's Your Trouble?
Q. What do you think of steam cleaning for a car engine? H. D. A. If an engine is greasy and dirty this is more than a matter of making it look like new. You can then tell if there are any leaks. However, such cleaning may take off some of the engine paint and should always be done by someone who knows his business.

Q. How often should an automatic transmission be drained off and refilled? N. F. D. A. It varies from 15,000 to 25,000 miles, but don't forget that all-important checking of the oil level every 2,500 miles.

Q. I have been trying to check the advance on the distributor of my car. Can't seem to figure it out. There is no centrifugal advance mechanism. Wm L. L. A. You'd need a mercury column for this very critical adjustment. This is something more accurate than a vacuum gauge, and means that you had better check with your dealer.

Q. I have been troubled with the breaker points on my car. They do not look burned yet the ignition acts that way. There is no evidence of oil vapor in the distributor. The condenser is the right capacity. The points are first quality. This has got me down. Points just seem to have a blue scale on them. R. R. G. A. This is evidence of excessively high voltage in the primary ignition system. Check for bad connections, even as far back as the battery.

Q. I should like to install one of the new four-barrel carburetors on my car so that I can take advantage of the great increase in power which these new units provide. Can this be done on my car? H. K. B.

A. Not unless you also use the manifolding which is found on the current models using these carburetors. Manufacturers of these carburetors advise me that their unit is still for factory installation only.

Q. Is it true that the cylinder heads on the engine of my new car do not have gaskets? K. K. Jr. A. This is a fact. The parts fit like a glove, and no grease or white lead is required when replacing the heads. Without a gasket compression is higher.

Q. My car tends to pull to the right whenever I apply the brakes. We have checked everything about the individual brakes but can't seem to solve this. Have you any thoughts on this? S. L. McE.

A. I suggest that you check for a clogged or dented left front brake line. This would allow the front pressure to go to the right hand brake and thus make the car pull in that direction.

Q. We get a bad shimmy at higher speeds. The front-end has been checked twice. No looseness in the propeller shaft. N. N. L. A. How about loose motor mounts?

START BUILDING ATOM-POWERED SUB AT GROTON

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

GROTON, Conn. (P)—What the United States hopes will be the world's first atomic-engineered submarine — The Nautilus — began taking shape today with the ceremonial welding together of some ordinary-looking steel plates.

Formerly, this would have been a keel-laying ceremony but ship-building technique and designs have changed.

First Run In '54

A submarine now has no keel to lay. And a great deal of work already has been done toward designing the hull, gathering together and fabricating material and starting work on a land-based experimental nuclear engine like that which will drive the new submarine Nautilus when she starts her first trial run sometime in 1954.

The Nautilus, when completed, is expected to be the first of its kind in the world. But there has been speculation that Russia, already believed to have the world's largest submarine fleet, may be experimenting along similar lines.

At below-snorkel depth, today's submarine must cut off its powerful diesel engines and rely on electric motors driven from batteries. They can stay down only a matter of hours and their speed is limited.

Use Steam Power

The solution to the problem has come in atomic energy. So far, science has not discovered a way to apply directly the tremendous energy of nuclear fission. So it is being hooked to one of the oldest forms of motive power, steam.

A nuclear reactor (an atomic furnace) produces heat which gen-

HELD FOR TRIAL FOR GIVING REDS STATE SECRETS

LONDON (P)—A 24-year-old foreign office radio operator was ordered held today for trial on a charge of passing secrets to the Soviet Embassy's second secretary.

The slight, fresh-faced youth, William Marshall, refused to apply for bail at a hearing before a magistrate. He had been arrested yesterday at his home.

Marshall, who returned only last December from a year's assignment to the British Embassy in Moscow, was charged with violating the Official Secrets Act.

Courtroom jammed

The official charge sheet declared that Marshall "did on divers dates and at divers places for a purpose prejudicial to the safety and interests of the state communicate to another person, to wit, Pobel Kuznetsov, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy, information which is calculated to be or might be or is intended to be directly or indirectly useful to an enemy."

The small courtroom was jammed, principally with British and foreign newsmen. About 20 persons loitered in front of the building.

The full story behind Marshall's arrest may not come out for some time as further hearings may be held in secret.

Fission of one pound of uranium releases energy equal to the combustion of 2,600,000 tons of coal or the equivalent in fuel oil.

Foreign Legion Resembles Films

HANOI, Indo-China (P)—Those romantic, adventurous men of the Foreign Legion who sometimes figure in Hollywood movies look just like they do in the films.

The legionnaires in their colorful uniforms are often honor guard for a visiting dignitary. They also spearhead assaults against Communist Vietnamese forces. The several thousand legionnaires here have made an enviable reputation as fighting men.

In Indo-China, 46 per cent of the legionnaires are German. Fourteen per cent are Polish. The rest come from various other countries.

STEELWORKERS WON'T GIVE UP

PITTSBURGH (P)—Leaders of the CIO United Steelworkers say 650,000 striking members will continue their shutdown of most of the nation's steel industry "until our cause is won."

The steelworkers executive board and wage policy committee—called into extraordinary session by President Philip Murray—issued a sharply-worded statement after hearing Murray review latest developments in the 13-day old strike.

The statement said there will be no retreat in the union's stand. That calls for a settlement embodying all recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board.

The union took cognizance that the strike is shutting off vitally needed steel for the war in Korea. It promised all possible help to produce such steel. Union, company and government officials now are trying to work out a plan to resume production in some plants.

The WSB, in addition to recommending adoption of a union shop in the industry—which provides that all workers must belong to the union—suggested a 26 cents an hour wage hike. The men now average about $1.95 an hour.

1. You get a bigger return on your money because interest rates have been increased... new types of bonds are available.
2. You invest your money to help safeguard your future... the future of your country. And that's just about the biggest job you can do—for yourself... your family... your friends.

Take advantage of this two-way opportunity by buying United States Defense Bonds regularly—on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or on the Bond-a-Month Plan from your bank.

NOW Series E Bonds Are 4 Ways Better

1. You get a full 3% interest on bonds purchased since May 1, with the interest compounded semi-annually, if you hold your bonds to maturity.

3. Interest on the new bonds is now higher in the early years... starts after just six months.
4. The individual annual purchase limit on E Bonds is now $20,000 maturity value.
